

A native of Pocahontas County, Katie returned to the county upon graduating from West Virginia University in 2011 with degree in Agribusiness Management and Rural Development. She is an Insurance Producer at the Mosesso Agency in Marlinton, which has been servicing the community since 1988. When she is not at the Mosesso Agency she can be found working at Appalachian Sport in Marlinton, her father's sporting good and outfitter business, another prominent member of the business community since 1989.

Her love of this beautiful county is what brought her back and she spends much of her free time outdoors enjoying the scenic and recreational amenities Pocahontas County has to offer.