And The Road Kill Cook-Off

Saturday, September 26, 2015

Wild & Wacky – that’s what everyone calls this festival in the heart of West Virginia Mountains. The West Virginia RoadKill Cook-off is one of the region’s most exciting events. In years past, the Food Network, the Travel Channel, and the Discovery Channel have all covered this wild and wacky festival!

We’ve even been featured on TV in both England and Sweden!

If you’ve ever wanted to taste dishes like squirrel gravy, or teriyaki marinated bear or deer sausage, this is the place for you to be! Wristbands for $5.00 can be purchased to taste the vittles. Come early, samples are limited! It’s first come, first serve. Cookin’ starts at 9 a.m. Judgin’ starts at noon and you can taste the grub whenever you work up the nerve - after 10:30 a.m.
